Floatinghome's sophomore studio album is an indie-folk-rock opus comprised of orchestrated impressions of nine images:

BEYOND TOMORROW

A three-frame charcoal drawing depicting various dynamics of a couple's relationship.

[CHARCOAL ON PAPER: 330x960mm]

VOLKOVA'S LAMENT

Painting of a tempestuous whirl-pool scene with a siren rising through its centre.

[SPRAYPAINT ON WOOD: 2500x2500mm]

PLEASE SIR

Pencil sketch of a figure hunched over a nineteen-eighties-style computer in the bottom left corner of a large empty canvas, bag of cash beside him.

[PENCIL ON CANVAS: 2000x600mm]

LILA IN MY ARMS

Faded charcoal drawing on a brown paper bag of a couple dancing, one pointing away. Slightly ripped with the trace of a dirty snowy footprint

[CHARCOAL ON PAPER, RIPPED: 294x165.2mm]

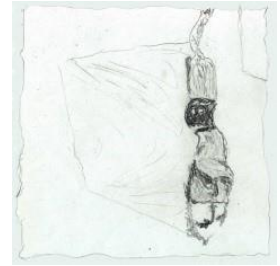

GENERATION Y

Portrait of an old-looking young man on white paper, charcoal with splashes of colour.

[CHARCOAL ON PAPER: 1000x700mm]

BELIEVE

Screen-print of a mash-up of five heads and various forms.
[SCREEN PRINT ON CARD: 300x300mm]

DREAMING HER SKIN

Lady, seen from behind, with long wavy blonde hair, wearing loose clothing, running through a forest, summer light dancing through the trees and her dress.
[OIL ON CANVAS: 594x420mm]

THAIAS KEPT

Colour pencil-drawing of an aged puppeteer's attic, centred on a stage with a scene depicting a whore, a warrior and a burning Persepolis.
[PENCIL ON CARD: 300x607mm]

THESE WORDS

Oil-painting of a man leaning against a rainy bus window at dusk, singing along to music on his headphones.
[OIL ON CANVAS: 1000x1000mm]

Each song on Dreams for Dreamers tells the story of its corresponding image in a musical poetic form with full band orchestrations, featuring a number of guests including:

Aidan Floatinghome - guitar, clarinet & vocals

Augustin Dethier - drums & backing vocals

Fabrice Bihain - guitar, flute & backing vocals

Rémy Lehembre - bass & backing vocals

Simon Bériaux - keyboards & backing vocals
